Dosher Welcomes New General Surgeon

SOUTHPORT— Dosher Memorial Hospital has hired Paul Armstrong, MD, a board-certified General Surgeon, to be on Dosher's medical staff.

Dr. Armstrong graduated from the University of Alabama School of Medicine and completed his residency at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, where he was the Chief Resident of General Surgery. Before joining Dosher, Dr. Armstrong worked for Abington Surgical Associates, in Abington, Virginia, and had privileges at Johnston Memorial Hospital in Abington. Armstrong was the Senior Surgical Partner in this practice, and worked with training physicians who are part of the Johnston Memorial Hospital Family Medicine and Internal Medicine Residency Program.

Dr. Armstrong is available for all types of general surgeries and endoscopic procedures at Dosher Memorial Hospital. He is welcoming new patients at the hospital's general surgery and endoscopy clinic at 904 N. Howe Street, Pod A, in Southport.
