Dosher names Dr. Hilaman Chief Medical Officer

SOUTHPORT—Board-certified gynecologist Brad Hilaman, MD, is now chief medical officer for Doshier Memorial Hospital, a new position. In this new, he is working with Doshier Medical Staff leaders and other physicians to expand hospital and community health initiatives.

Dr. Hilaman continues as the lead provider at Doshier Medical-Women's Health, a gynecology and women's health physician practice that Doshier has operated since 2014. He has 37 years of experience in gynecology and is a Fellow in the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He and Amy L. Burger, physician assistant, are accepting new patients at 910-457-9292.

Dr. Hilaman also continues as medical director of Doshier's national award-winning Wound Care Center. This department has provided 6,300 treatments for more than 700 patients with diabetic foot ulcers and other chronic, non-healing wounds in its first three years in operation.
