Dosher's role in Happiest Seaside Town honors

SOUTHPORT—You've probably heard that Southport, N.C. was named the "Happiest Seaside Town in America" by Coastal Living magazine, beating out nine other U.S. seaside towns coast to coast. What you may not know is that Doshier Hospital played a role in Southport receiving this prestigious honor.

Kirk Singer, Doshier's Community Relations director, shot and produced a video based on the song, "If you're happy and you know it," which just about everyone learned in Sunday School or summer camp as a kid. In addition, a group from Doshier was featured singing in one of the scenes.

Congratulations Southport for what we all already knew was true.

Here's an article about the video. <http://dailycatch.coastalliving.com/2015/06/09/the-viral-video-that-made-southport-north-carolina-americas-happiest-seaside-town/>
